What's New in the?

- Programmable Audio Generator is a handy application designed to help you create audio files by entering a series of tones. It can be used for creating tones for testing equipment.
- The tones are defined as a text file that will be processed by the program in order to generate the audio file.
- The tones are easily accessible, just double click a sound file and it will be played instantly.
- Programmable Audio Generator allows you to generate a tone for each sound file in your text file and this allows for adding a delay between each tone.
- Add a pitch to any tone created. You can also add the volume for each tone. • You can also create loops from your text file and it will play until it reaches the end of the loop. • Programmable Audio Generator allows you to set the Start and Stop time of the loop. • You can even get a completely unique beep tone for each sound file in your text file, so you can beep for any sound file. • A File Info window opens so you can view information about any file that you are currently working with. • You can also save a list of your tones for future use. • In case of any issue with your text file, a mistake in your text file or even a sound file, you are able to undo any of your changes. • You can add a project in order to have your application recheck your saved tones. • You can also select the noise setting for each tone. • The application will not open until you are ready and create one or more tones.
